NEW YORK ELECTORS MEET. THE POTE OF THE STATE CAST FOR PKINLEY AND HOBART,

Perfor Birrell Attempts to Introduce a Resolution Indorsing Platt's Leadership and His Candidacy for the Senate-The Electors Are Entertained at Luncheon, ALBANY, Jan. 11.-The thirty-six Republican electors chosen last November met at noon today in the Senate Chamber as an electoral college to formally cast the vote of this State for William McKinley of Ohio for President and Garret A. Hobart for Vice-President.

Secretary of State Palmer called the electors to order in the Senate Chamber and requested them to group themselves about the desks of the Lieutenant-Governor and Clerk, so that they could be photographed in a body. This prensioned the loss of but a few minutes, and the electors then took their seats and proceeded to business. Secretary Palmer calling them to order as an electoral college.

Interested speciators, nearly all of whom were ladies, occupied the ladies' gallery. The Rev. Dr. Holmes of Albany offered prayer, asking that the President-elect be guided in the choice of his advisers, and that he be enabled to inaugurate wise policies of government. The Secretary of State said that it became his pleasant duty to preside over the deliberations of the college until a President was elected. He announced that the Governor would be pleased to meet the electors shortly before 2 o'clock this afternoon. He announced that after the college had organized a recess could be taken for Deputy Secretary of State Andrew Davidson then called the roll and all of the electors were found to be present. The Secretary of State then administered the constitutional oath of office to the electors in a body. The electors then signed the oath, Gen. Tracy being the first to attach his signature.

Secretary Palmer announced that the next siness was the election of a President. George B. Deane nominated Gen. Benj. F. Tracy and Charles A. Moore of Brooklyn seconded the nomination, which was made unantmous. Secretary Palmer then resigned his position as presiding officer to Gen. Tracy, who addressed the electors as follows: "GENTLEMEN OF THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE:-I thank you for the honor which you have confarred upon me by calling me to preside over you on this interesting and unportant occasion. We have met as an electoral college to cast the vote of the State of New York in pursuance to the instructions of the people of this State at the last election. That vote it will be our duty as well as our pleasure to cast for William McKinley for President and Garret A. Hobart for Yte-President, and in casting that vote we shall do it in the hope and in the conviction even that the Administration which is to be called in power by the elector college of the Constitution of this nation this day will, by its establishment and by the establishment of Congress, already elected, be able to secure and maintain the peace of the country, and to bring about a ain a revival of prosperity such as this country knew in '91 and '92, and which we sincerely hope and trust and believe will be permanent, at least for many years to come."

Leopola siern of New York and George Urban, Jr., of Buffalo were nominated and elected as secretaries of the convention. The following erred upon me by calling me to preside over on on this interesting and unportant occasion.

of Buffalo were nominated and elected as retaries of the convention. The following solutions were adopted: resolutions were adopted:

By Electer Sloan—That a committee of three be appointed by the Pres dent to nominate messengers to cover the result of the halloting of the college to the President of the United States Senate and the Judge of the United States Court for the Northern District of New York.

By Elector Rogers—That the President appoint three elects to receive the voices that may be cast for President and Vice President of the United States.

By Elector Unite—Inat the college proceed to ballot for President of the United States.

Nicnolas Fish of New York, Charles A. Moore of Brooklyn, and James C. Cutler of Rochester were appointed to act as tellers to receive and count the votes.

were appointed to act as tellers to receive and count the votes.

The electors then proceeded to bailot for President. The tellers collected the vote of the flector, who devosited in a hat an engraved card announcing their choice, and afterward announced that the entire thirty-six votes of the college had been cast for William McKinley of Ohio for President of the United States. President Tracy then announced the choice of the college for President to be William McKinley.

the college for President to be William Mckinies.

On motion of George B. Deane the college procested to bailout for the office of Vice-President in the same manner as for President, and the telests again reported that the thirty-six votes of the college were cast for Garret A. Hobart of New Jersey for Nice-President, President Tracy announced that Mr. Hobart was the their of the college for this office.

President Tracy appointed George B. Sloan of Owego, Winsor E. French of Saratoga, and Edward H. Butler of Buffalo a committee to select messengers to deliver the record of the college to the President of the Senate at Washington and to the United States Judge for the Northern district of New York.

William Leaton of Albany, Herman O.
Armour of New York, and Seth M. Milliken of New York were appointed as a committee to go to the Albany Test Office and mail to the President of the United States Senate the encallege in casting its vote for President and Vice-President.

Some time was spent in having the electors sign the various papers prepared by the Secretary of Siste, so that the work of the college could be made a matter of record.

The committee app intel for that purpose recommended that James 6. Cutter of Rochester be named to art as messenger to the President of the United States Senate and Charles A. Moore of Brooking to act as messenger to the United States Judge for the Northern District of New York and give the officials the envelope containing the vace of the college for President and Vice-President.

Sichoas Fish of New York moved at 1:30 that the college take a recess until 3:15 P. M. and proceed in a ody to pay their respects to the Governor. This was amended by providing that the college convene again at 1:50 P. M. and assemended the resolution was adopted. Before the reces, resolution was adopted.

Before the reces, resolution was adopted.

Elector Henry Eirreli of New York sent to the desk a resolution, which was afeciared out of order by President Tracy after he had first read Mefore the recess resolution was adopted Elector Heary Street of New York sent to the dresk a resolution, which was declared out of order by President Tracy after he had first read it in an undertone. The resolution indorsed the leadership of the Hon T. C. Platt. as well as bis candidacy for United States Senator, to succeed David B. Hill. Mr. Birrell, when he came to Albany, did not intend to introduce such a resolution, but, for some reason, drafted it just as the college was considering the recess resolution, when Mr. Hirrell's resolution was handed to the Secretary the latter started to read it, but President Tracy for some reason or other asked the secretary to hand the resolution to him. Mr. Tracy, after reading it, decided that the resolution condition be received at that time, as a question of adjournment was under consideration. The resolution was returned to Mr. Birrell and it did not sgain make its appearance. Gen. Tracy said after the college had adjourned that he understood that Mr. Platt had been informed of Mr. Birrell's proposed resolution and had several of his friends had several of his friends had several of his friends had several such a resolution but it had been infinated to him that its passage might displease Mr. Platt, therefore he sidd not press the resolution, and when it was returned to him he tore in the term in 1805, passad a resolution indorsing the candidacy of Edward Murphy for the Senatz, and that was the only precedent Mr. Birrell had for introducing his proposed resolution to the servers had been after the selectors college, which net here in 1805, passad a resolution indorsing the candidacy of Edward Murphy for the Senatz, and that was the only precedent Mr. Birrell had for introducing his proposed resolution to dear. rtly before 2 o'clock the college convene

UTAH'S SENATORIAL FIGHT.

Ex-Congressman Rawline Is Regarded as the Hirangest in the Race.

SALT LAKE, Utah, Jan. 11 .- The Utah State Legislature met to-day, and on Tuesday week it will take the first ballot for a United States Senator to succeed Senator Brown. Fifty-eight of the sixty-three members are Democrats, and the three most prominent candidates for the Senatorial toga, Moses Thatcher, ex-Congressman Rawlins, and Judge Henderson, have man Rawlins, and Judge Henderson, have opened headquarters at the leading hotels and are entertaining with some liberality.

Thatcher, the recently unfrocked Mormon apostle, whose ecclesia-tical downfall is the consequence of his opposition to church leaders attempting to control in politics, is making his fight as the anti-church candidate, and has a strong following, which has been augumented by the virtual withdrawal of Judge Powers from the contest and the issuance of an address by Powers, urging his supporters to vote for Thatcher. Rawlins is a leading lawyer, very popular, and did veteran service in obtaining Statehood for Utah. He is considered the strongest in the race.

Henderson, although a Gentile, is receiving some support from the Mormon church.

The feeling between the Thatcherand Rawlins factions is very bitter, and if neither has strength enough to be elected Powers may come in as a compromise candidate, or it may go to a dark horse, of whom there are several, notably Thurman and Harris.

CIVIL SERVICE IN BROOKLYN.

No "Hold Up" of the Teachers' Salaries Through Justice Keogh's Ruling. City Treasurer Herbert G. Taylor of Brooklyn has decided not to "hold up" the salaries of the public school teachers who were appointed last year, although Corporation Counsel Burr advised him that, in view of the recent sweeping civit service decision of Justice Keogh of the Supreme Court, he would have to make the payments on his own responsibility. In ex-planation of his action Treasurer Taylor says: planation of his action. Treasurer Taylor says:

I am willing to assume the responsibility, and have decided to recognize any warrants drawit upon me, properly stened and countersigned, and the treachers will therefore be paid their salaries without any himdrance from me. I hold that when any law on our attaint books is a violation of the rights of the people, towars no loss to any municipal corporation, and mposes no hardship or loss to any fullisheal, there may be occasion when it should, in a measure, be ignored.

The Civil Service Commission is suffering from lack of finds to carry on its work, and at the meeting of the Aldermen yesterday it was decided to appropriate $1,000 from the nexpended balances for its the. There was an animated debate over the matter, and Alderman Leich subjected himself to the judignation of the civil service reformers by moving that the question of the appropriation be referred to the committee on "lonely places" when appointed.

The factional row within the Republican organization of the Twenty-seventh Assembly district developed a new feature yesterday, which may result in the selection of Dr. E. Valentine Buck for district leader at a meeting to be held to-night. Dr. Buck and his friends were distinctly the minority faction in the district, as shown by the result of the primaries, but powerful extraneous opposition to the victorious faction has been exerted so effectually, it was said last night, as to insure the Doctor's t was said last night, as to insure the Doc election.

NAMED FOR THE CABINET MICHIGAN SOLID FOR ALGER FOR SECRETARY OF WAR.

Sherman Surprises Republican Senators by Saying There Is No Truth in the Sintements That Ste Is to Se in the Cab-inct-Hauna May Take the Treasury. WASHINGTON, Jan. 11,-Gen, Russell A. Alger f Michigan has been in Washington to-day in consultation with many prominent Republicana. The object of his visit is to secure speakers for the Michigan Club banquet on Washington's birthday. In answer to all inquiries as to Cabinet, Gen. Alger replied that he had no in-formation on the subject. He is explicit in the statement that if the President-elect has deided to appoint him he does not know it. Other Michigan men in Washington, however, do possess knowledge as to the intentions of the President-elect with regard to Michigan, and they say with the utmost positiveness that it has long since been decided to appoint Gen. Alger Secretary of War. for Canton, and expects to be assured by the resident-elect in person that there is no question of Gen. Alger's appointment. Michigan has no other candidate for Cabinet honors, and all factions of Republicans in the State and all Republicans individually, with the possible exception of Gov. Pingree, are united in his support. Senator Burrows's visit to Canton is for the purpose of assuring the President-elect of this, and to make it plain to him that Michigan Republicans will be highly gratified if he follows his present intention to put Gen. Alger at the head of the War Department.

All Cabinet places not already decided upon now appear to hinge upon the outcome of the attempt to force the appointment of Senator Sherman as Secretary of State. There is apparently a misunderstanding about this appointment, and one that nobody in Washington seems able to clear up. Among the colleagues of Mr. Sherman in the Senate there is no doubt whatever that the matter is settled and that he is to be the Premier of the Cabinet, and that Mr. Hanna is to succeed him in the Senate. Mr. Hanns is to succeed him in the Senate. The first man who brought this information to Washington was Senator Thurston of Nebraska, who announced at the same time that the President-elect would call an extra session of Congress to meet on March 15. As soon as he reached the Senate chamber from his Canton visit, Senator Thurston entered his name in the "little red book" of the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate as an applicant for Mr. Sherman's desk when vacant. The Nebraska Senator was very much chagrined to learn, after he had performed this strictly Senatorial act of bidding for a dead man's shoes, that Senator Lodge had been before nim, and that if Mr. Sherman leaves the Senate his desirable desk in the centre of the Republican side of the chamber will fail to the lot of the junior Senator from Massachusetts.

leaves the Senate his desirable desk in the centre of the Republican side of the chamber will fall to the lot of the junior Senator from Massachusetts.

Senator Lodge is now as confident as Senator Thurston is that Mr. Sherman is to be Secretary of State, but the Ohio Senator made a remark to a friend to-day that has set them all thinking, and that has slightly shaken Mr. Lodge's hope of occupying Senator Sherman's desk after March 4. Mr. Sherman said, with every evidence of annoyance, that there is no truth whatever in the statements that he is to be a member of the Cabinet, and that it is time to stop circulating such reports. Republican Senators to whom this statement of Mr. Sherman was repeated expressed the greatest surprise, and are at a loss to reconcile it with their knowledge of the situation.

There was a report at the Capitol to-day to the effect that McKinley has been motified that Sherman will not accept and that an offer of tha State portfolio has been made to ex-Senator Edmunds of Vermont, now a resident of Philadelphia. No direct verification of this report was obtainable, however.

It is learned to-day from a gentleman who has just returned from Cieveland, whe e he had a chat with Chairman Hanna, that the President-elect has given up the idea of making senator Cullom Secretary of the Treasury because of the uncertainty as to who his successor would be, and that he is now again turning to the East for a candidate. If one is not found, it is possible that Mr. Hanna will take the place nimself, which would of course upset all present combinations, as Mr. Sherman would under those circumstances remain in the Senate.

Senator Allison's colleagues and triends have never understood what he meant by his statement in the newspapers just after leaving Canton, that "I will not be lost to offer the Secretary-ship of the Treasury or any other portfolio to Mr. Allison, and that therefore he did not make any offer to him. It is known also that Mr. Allison did not go to Canton in his own behalf at all, but for ically certain that the affable and smiling Sen-ator succeeded in his mission, although the name of the Hawkeye farmer who is to succeed Secretary Morton cannot be learned. Califor-nia, it is thought, will get the Interior Depart-ment, and West Virginia the Attorney-General-ship in the person of Natian Goff, Jr. In nearly all of the Cabinet states published nowadays the name of National Committeeman nowadays the name of National Committeeman Henry t. Payne of Wisconsin is put down as the coming Postmaster-General. It is not at all certain, however, that he will be appointed. Mr. Hanna is favorable to him, but H. H. Kohlsaat prefers ex-flow. Heard, whom he has recommended. The Wisconsin Republicans are divided in their allegiance to these two men, and it is possible that because of the difference of opinion the State may lose a Cabinet honor altogether.

NEW JERSEY LEGISLATURE.

MacPherson for Speaker-Essex and Hudson Combination Defrated.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 11.-The Republican Assemblymen caucused to-night, and decided o elect George W. MacPherson of Mercer as Speaker and reflect all of last year's officers, with three exceptions, one of which was due to death. Louis T. Derousse of Camden presided. and will be the Republican leader in the House. The official force will consist of James Parker of Passaic, Clerk; Samuel S. Lyon of Morris, teading Clerk; William Hul-kamper of Union, Journal Clerk: Lysander E. Watson of Monmouth, Engrossing Clerk; Charles H. Folwell of Burlington and George Smith of Hudson asistants; Andrew Breidenbach of Essex, Sergeant-at-Arms; P. Byer of Bergen and Thomas and of Hudson Rill Clerk: Frank D. Paullin of Cumberland assistant. The doorkeepers and pages will be altotted to members who obtained none of the other places.

The combination of the Essex and Hudson delegations to control the organization went to places early in the evening, as it was found that the smaller counties had united against the movement to let the two big counties run the house.

house. The Republican State Committee held a meeting this evening and adopted resolutions eulogistic of the late John Y. Foster, who was secretary of the committee for many years. United States Senator Sewell was present by invitation, and addressed the committee. He exhorted the committee to carry out the promises made in the party platform, and alluding to pending legislation, said that the biennial sessions amendment should be adopted, and the committee should use its influence to that end. Thirty-five or thirty-six States have already adopted blennial sessions, which is a step in the direction of political progress. Gen. Sewell said he had been repeatedly asked for his views regarding the organization of the Legislature, but had steadfastly refused to interfere. He thought the rule should be observed giving officers a two years' term unless there was good reason for changing. Of course incompetency might properly disqualify. The committee should exert its influence against increase in State expenditures. Gen. Sewell said he was in favor of establishing permanent headquarters for the committee.

The Legislature will organize at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, when flow. Griggs will send in his annual message. The report of the commissioners to consider the subject of taxation of railroad companies will send its report to the The Republican State Committee held a meet-

Opposition to Two Judgeship Nominations WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 .- The Senate Committee on the Judiciary took no action at its meeting this morning on the numerous Judgeship nominations now pending before it. The two against which the most opposition is mani-fested are those of William D. McHugh, to be District Judge for the district of Nebraska, and Charles H. Howry, to be Assaciate Justice of the Court of Claims. Both of these cases were postponed for two weeess. Since the last meeting of the committee a great many petitions favorable to the confirmation of Mr. McHugh have been filed with the committee, but the opposition has not yet completed its brief. The committee ordered a favorable report on the nomination of William H. White, to be District Asserting for the Essatern District of Virginia Attorney for the Eastern District of Virginia.

A National Democratic Club, ALBANY, Jan. 11.—The National Democratic Club of the Twenty-first Assembly district of New York city was incorporated to-day by the Secretary of State. The objects are "to further Democratic principles as declared at the indian-apolis Convention." The directors are Walter Lethbridge, W. B. Wilson, Conrad Muller, Jr., John J. Hyrnes, and George J. Vestner of New 2 York city.

M'RINLEY BACK IN CANTON. The Meaning of Senator Sherman's Confer ence with Him.

Canton, O., Jan. 11.—Major and Mrs. Ec-Kinley are back in their Canton home, where in all probability they will remain until they start for Washington on March 1. The contemplated trip to the South has been declared off, and the McKinleys will be exceedingly busy right here in Canton disposing of the work they have laid out. Among other things to occupy the time of the Major will be more conferences with party leaders to guide him in making up his Cabinet and filling such other places as civil service reform extensions leave him to fill. One of the most important of these conferences will be with Senator Sherman. The date has not been given out, but it will be within a week, and likely as not the Senator will come here when the Senate adjourns over Sunday.

There is much gossip and speculation as to the object of this conference, and many associate with it overtures to the Senator to take a Cabinet place. But there are good reasons for believing that such is not the case, but that the advice of Senator Sherman is wanted concern ing other men and other matters. In the first place there are only two places in the Cabinet of sufficient importance to be offered to Mr. Sherman-the State and the Treasury portfolios All gossip which places Sherman in the Cabinet gives to Mr. Hanna his seat in the Senate That is no easy matter of arrangement, as shown by the candidacy of Charles L. Kurtz for the Senate. Mr. Kurtz is first lieutenant of the Foraker-Bushnell forces of the State. By virtue of their ascendancy two years ago he was made Chairman of the State Central Committee, and at St. Louis W. H. Hahn allowed him to becom a member of the National Committee in the interest of barmony.

So long as the Senatorial bee buzzes in Mr. Kurtz's bonnet Gov, Bushnell could not name another man to fill a vacancy such as would arise should Mr. Sherman resign unless Senator Foraker issued an edict so ordering. And Senator Foraker issued an edict so ordering. And Senator Foraker is not Pkely to do so.

The story concerning Charles Emory Smith and the Treasury portfolio is attracting mere attention than any gossip yet circulated concerning the Cabinet. Charles Emory Smith is on very friendly terms with Major McKinley. They have long been more than political sequantiances, and since Major McKinley became a Presidential probability nearly a year ago, the editor of the Philadelphia Press and the ex-Minister to Russia has made a number of trips to Canton, each time being entertained as an honored guest at the McKinley home. Besides, he was very active in the campaign. It has been thought from the first that he would be identified with the new Administration, but it wasat first supposed that he would be returned to the court at St. Petersburg. His dinancial addresses before the Boston Board of Trade and the Pennsylvania Legislature proved him to be a student of the money question.

They came to talk about the new Commissioner of Patents. They want a practical patent attorney for the office, so that some of the red tape will be done away with in that department and business expedited. They recommend a man from the Central or Western States and hinted that Judge Morrison of Columbus would about suit them. The Major promised to give their recommendations earnest consideration, and suit them. The Major promised to give their recommendations earnest consideration, and that is all he did promise. Charles R. Miller, one of the Ohio electors and a distant rousin of McKinley, is understood to aspire to the place. He is a patent attorney and resules in this city. The twenty-three Presidential electors of Ohio, who met in Columbus to-day, will come here to-morrow to congratulate the Major and will take lunch with him. ## BROOKLYNITES FOR MR. PLATT. He Is Indorsed for the Senatorship by Twenty-six Republican Clubs.

Fifty delegates, representing twenty-siz Republican clubs in Brooklyn, met in the rooms of the Union Republican Club of the Twentieth ward, at 104 South Oxford street, last night, for the purpose of indorsing Thomas C. Platt for the United States Senate as the successor of David B. Hill. Former Congressman William

George F. Elliott said he had received a letter from Senator J. B. Foraker of Onto on another subject, but which was pertinent to the present matter, and he read it. A part of it is as

UNION LEAGUE COUNCIL OF TEN Twenty Per Cent, of the Fifty for Choate, Anyhow The Club Opposition,

There was to be a meeting yesterday after on at the Union League club house of the club's Committee of Fifty, appointed to forward the candidacy of Joseph II. Choate for United States Senator, Paul D. Cravath announced shortly after 6 o'clock last evening that such a meeting had been held, and that an address to the Republican members of the Legislature had been adopted and will be made public.

It was learned not from Mr. Cravath-that only ten of the fifty were present. Whether they had proxies or not was not learned, but they adopted the address all the same. These were the ten: William D. Guthrie, Chairman; . Adriance Bush, Paul D Cravath, Benjamin F. Fairchild, James D. Hague, Joseph W. Howe, Cyrus J. Lawrence, Edward Mitchell, Dr. D. R. St. John, John Roosa, and William Hull Wickham.

There were ten other members of the commit-tee in the club house, but for one reason or another they did not attend the meeting. They another they did not attend the meeting. They were:

Daniel J. Appleton, Samuel P. Avery, George Blagden, Richard Butler, Bayard Dominick, Sigourney W. Fay, Isaac Townsend Smith, Frederick H. Von Stade, Frederick C. Wagner, and Salem H. Wales.

The members of the Union League Club who are circulating for signature a paper protesting to the Legislature against being bound by the action of the Committee of Fifty report that they are meeting with unusual success in their efforts. One of them said last night that he secured thirty signatures to the document in less than two hours, and that he met with but five refusals.

Mayor Wurster, Comptroller Palmer, and City Auditor Sutton met yesterday and appointed William Kramer to serve out the unexpired term of the late Police Justice Harriman, which terminates on May 1. On that date Justice Kramer will begin his four years' term as Justice Goetling's successor. He is a lawyer, and has long been active in Republican politics in the Nineteenth ward. He will preside in the Gates Avenue Court until May 1 and after that date in the Lee Avenue Court.

John W. Yerkes May Succeed Blackburn FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 11,-There seems to be a possibility now that there may be no extra session of the Legislature until after March 4, and that on March 5 the Hon. John W. Yerkes will be appointed Senator by Gov. Bradley.

WOULDN'T HEAR ALTGELD. SCANT COURTEST SHOWN HIM AT

TANNER'S INAUGURATION. He Had a 4,000-Word Address Prepared, and Expected to Deliver It at the Cus-tomary Time - The Republicans Ad-Journed the Meeting and Shut film Off. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 11.—The only novelty. n the inauguration function at the Capitol today was the departure from custom in preventing ex-Gov. John P. Altgeld from delivering a 4,000-word address, which he had prepared for the occasion and was on the point of beginning, when a Republican motion to adjourn the joint Assembly was declared carried by Speaker Curtis, Immediately after the announcement by the Chair that John R. Tanner was Governor of Illinois Senator Mahoney (Dem.) moved that the retiring Governor be requested to speak after Gov. Tanner had delivered his address This was done because the Democratic members of the Legislature had learned that the Republican managers of the inauguration ceremonies did not include in the programme a farewell address by Mr. Altgeld.

The President of the Senate, to whom the notion was addressed, referred the mover to Speaker Curtis, who was in charge of the joint ession, but the Speaker refused to entertain it at that time. This interlection in the set cerenon; caused a ripple of excitement among the big assemblage. Senator Mahoney said privately that Speaker Curtis had informed him there would not be time for Mr. Altgeld to speak. The trouble was allowed to subside for an hour by the delivery of Gov. Tanner's address which he read. He expressed his pleasure for his election to the great office of Governor. Then he took up the subject of revenue and discussed it at length, making several recommendations regarding penal institutions. He declared that the system organized by Gov. Altgeld had proven more disastrous to free labor than even the old contract system. He recommended that convicts be employed in the manufacture of school books.

In speaking of the parioning power, Gov. Tanner said that he believed that function had In speaking of the partining power, Gov. Tanner said that he believed that function had been shused and used in an arbitrary manner until there was need of some radical action. He even suggested the abelishment of the pardoning power entirely. He favored the formation of a commission of inquiry which will relieve the Governor of the labor of reviewing and investigating the many applications.

At the conclusion of the Governor's speech, Representative Noile, Rep. moved the adjournment of the Assembly. Cries of "No," "Shame," "Dirty politics," and other exclamations of disapproval were heard throughout the Hail of Representatives, but Speaker Curtis promptly declared the motion carried, refusing to notice Senator Mahoney. Ex-Gov, Aligeld, who had occupied a prominent position on the stage, took the manuscript of his speech in his hand, turned a little pale and then red, smiled sarcastically at his successor, pocketed his speech, and left the stage.

Gov. Tanner and his colleagues were inducted into office with much pomp and a parade, largely military, which occapied thirty blocks. Chief Justice Magnuder administered the oath. There was a ball at the Capitol in the evening.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 11.—At 12 o'clock to-day James A. Mount and Thomas Hargard were inaugurated Governor and Lieutenant-Governor respectively of Indiana. The ceremonies took place upon a platform erected in the main corridor of the Capitol building. The exercises began with a parade of carriages. The oath was administered to Gov. Mount by Chief Justice Jordan of the State Supreme Court.

In his inaugural address Gov. Mount by Chief Justice Jordan of the State Supreme Court.

In his inaugural address Gov. Mount warned the Legislature against conspiring lobhylsts, saying the trusts and combines through lobhylsts are able to look after their interests, while the mechanic, and the miner have no one outside the Legislature to exert an influence in their behalf. He advised the settlement of labor disputes by arbitration, orged the overhauling of loan association, and put himself squarely signist the proposition to hold a State centennial exhibition in 1900. He closed by recommending that a merit system be established in the State's penal institutions.

THE MONETARY CONFERENCE.

Arrival of Delegates to the Meeting is Indianapolis The Programme. INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 11.- The hotel corridors to-night present much the same appearance as on the eve of a national political convention. Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce in 250 cities have appointed delegates to the Monetary Conference which will meet to-morrow. Nearly half of the 400 delegates who are expected have arrived. The gathering is nonpartisan. There is no cut-and-dried programme, of the deliberations. The conference will follow the lines of a regular convention. It will be called to order at 2 P. M. by Mr. Hugh M. Hanna of this city, who is Chairman of the Executive Committee which was appointed at the preliminary conference.

The Hon, E. O. Stannard, ex-Governor of Missouri, will be temporary Chairman and C. Stuart Patterson, Dean of the University of Pennsylvania, will be permanent presiding officer.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee today it was decided to recommend the appointment of committees an eredentials, permanent organization, and resolutions. To the latter committee all papers and propositions will be referred and only a limited time will be permitted to a delegate to give the aubstance of his proposition. This will save the conference from listening to a number of essays on currency revision and prevent interminable debate.

The sessions will be addressed by such representative men as Courles S, Fairchild, ex-Secretary of the Treasury: Congressman Walker of the House Committee on Banking and Currency, and others. It was hoped that ex-President Harrison could be induced to address the Convention, but Mr. Harrison left for the East to-day on legal business. was appointed at the preliminary conference.

MRS. SPIIZ, LEVITT, AND $150. He Couldn't Marry Her Recause He Has a

Wife, and She Wants Her Money Back,

In the Lee Avenue Police Court yesterday Mrs. Fannie Spitz, a widow, of 820 Park avenue. Williamsburgh, accused Nathan Levitt, who lives at 48 Ellery street, of obtaining $150 from her under false pretences. Mrs. Spitz became acquainted with Levitt through a matrimonial agent in this city about two years ago. According to her statement in court, Levitt represented himself as a divorced man. He told Mrs. Spitz, she says, that he dearly loved her and wanted her to become his wife. Mrs. Spitz set half a dozen dates for the marriage, but Levitt had it postponed each time. Buring their courtship Levitt induced her to give him various sums of money, aggregating $150. In May last she discovered that Levitt had a wife and children. She demanded the return of her money, but was unable to get it, and last week she obtained a warrant against him. When Levitt was arraigned in court yesierday he emphatically denied the allegation. He said that Mrs. Spitz lent him the money, and that she always knew that he was married.

Mrs. Spitz became hysterical while on the witness stand, and Justice Goetting adjourned the case until to-morrow. itt represented himself as a divorced man. He the case until to-morrow.

Irish Queen Shows Fight When He Tried to Get His 255 Back-She Is Locked Up. Harry Russell Biauvelt, who lives at 325 West Fifty seventh street and is in the insurance business at 258 Broadway, accompanied a woman whom he met in the street on Saturday night to a Raines law hotel in Forty-second street, between Seventh and Eighth avenues, Blauvelt bought champagne for his new acquaintance. They had a room to the inselves. There was a table in the room, and Blauvelt placed his silk nat on top. After drinking one bottle of wine Blauvelt peeled a $5 bill from a roll he had and threw the bill in his hat. When the waiter appeared for his pay Blauvelt got up the waiter appeared for his pay Blauvelt got up and looked in his hat. The $5 bill was gone. Thinking the woman had got the bill in some way, he said to her:

"Oh, keep it. I have more money in my pocket."

He put his hand in his pocket, but the roll from which he had peeled the five spot was gone. There was $50 in the roll.

The woman was willing to be searched, and the saloon keeper's wire falled to find the missing $60 on her. Then the couple cleared out. They separated on the street, Blauvelt telling the woman that he would give her an opportunity to settle. He made an appointment to meet her on Sunday night, but she didn't meet him.

She knocked his hat off, and a crowd surrounded the stringgling couple. The crowd brought a policeman, who haled man and woman to the West Thirtieth street station house.

There the woman gave her name as May Hart. That's only one of her many names. She is known in the district as the "Irish Queen." Blauvelt told how he had been robbed. He admitted that he wasn't positive that the girl stole his money, but as she was the only one in the room at the time it disappeared, he insisted that she be locked up. The last time the "Irish Queen." was arrested she had $1.300 in her stockings. She only had a few dollars in her possession this time.

decrease his powers or to legislate him out of existence even. This makes it possible to extend the jurisdiction of one set of Coroners over the Greater New York.

First of all, however, Dr. Tuthill wants the powers and duties of the office excended and its importance magnified. He would have the Coroners investigate the causes of death, not merely to fix liability for crime, but would give to the investigations a scientific character of educational value. He would provide a laboratory with experts in chemistry, toxicology, bacteriology, and the like in charge, who would in the first instance make all the examinations necessary in the prosecution of a homicine case, and be the expert witnesses for the people without extra compensation than their salaries.

Coroner Tuthill has an idea that the Coroner or Coroners, if there are to be more than one, should be appointed, not elected, and that such qualifications should be required of candidates that only competent scientific men can be appointed.
